

HARMFUL PRACTICES KNOWLEDGE AMBASSADOR PROGRAMME

Raising awareness. Building capacity. Driving system change.

The National FGM Centre (NFGMC) is working with specialist grassroots organisations to deliver a London-wide prevention programme tackling harmful practices. Together, we're raising awareness, building capacity, and driving system change to create safer, more hopeful childhoods by addressing the root causes of harmful practices — including harmful attitudes towards women and girls, gender inequality, and misogyny, and supporting communities, young people, and professionals to recognise, respond to, and prevent harmful practices.

WHO IS IT FOR?

We work with:

- Communities – including faith and community leaders, women and girls, men and boys, and underserved groups such as LGBTQI+, NRPF, and families seeking sanctuary.
- Young people.
- Professionals.

WHAT CAN WE OFFER?

- ✓ Awareness raising workshops in communities – with men, women, faith and community leaders.
- ✓ Dedicated workshops for parents.
- ✓ Youth-led workshops, meeting young people where they are.
- ✓ Training and awareness raising with professionals.
